

PUBLIC LEADER

EIGHTH YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., MONDAY, AUGUST 28, 1899.

ONE CENT.

WEATHER WISE.

What May Be Expected Here During the Next Thirty-six Hours.

THE LEDGER CODE

White straight—fair.
Blue—fair to good.
Black—fair to good.
If there is no change in the weather, the above forecast is for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 5 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Murray-Hart Company which closed at Electric Park Saturday night is not in any way connected with the Murray Company Company now conducting at the Electric House.

C. B. Avery, who is so unfortunately known in the city on account of his race, has been released from the Ohio Penitentiary, where he spent a year on account of his gambling transactions.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, ss.
I, Frank J. Cheney, make oath that he is the legal partner of the firm of J. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, Ohio, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

WEEKLY RECEIPTS.
What the City's Building Associations Recorded Saturday Night.

The receipts of the several Building Associations at the city on Saturday night were as follows:
Mason County, $44.90
Lintonville, $23.00
Total, $67.90

ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN.

Death of Mr. M. L. Williams at Manchester—Burial at Maysville Cemetery.

Mr. M. L. Williams, whose continued illness had received frequent mention in The Leader, died Friday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Savage, at Manchester, aged 76.

Decayed was born in Virginia, but had lived for many years in Kentucky—first at Ashland, then in Lewis county, and for the last fifteen years at Peabody Farm near this city.

About a year since he was attacked by Bright's disease, and as he fully realized the rapid approach of death he announced his readiness for the change. As the disease progressed he had to abandon active pursuits and some weeks ago went to the home of his daughter at Manchester.

In the relations of life Mr. Williams was honest and conscientious, of exceptionally even disposition, numbering every acquaintance as a friend.

His wife died several years ago, but he leaves surviving four children.
The funeral services took place at Manchester and the remains were laid to rest in Maysville Cemetery yesterday afternoon with the honors of a soldier.

Farwell, kind friend.
When the digestion is good and the general powers of the system in a healthy state, worms can find no habitation in the human body. White's Cream Vermifuge not only destroys every worm, but corrects all derangements of the digestive organs. Price 25 cents. J. J. Lee, Druggist.

THE MEXICAN HERBIE
BY C. H. COLLIER.
Have you not seen, upon some seaward reaching cape,
The lonely lighthouse, in the glare of day,
Looming up, with twinkling form and shape,
That the night redolts its lantern's ray?

So to the border on his sandy main,
A vigil keeps in desert waste alone,
As beacon tower upon its onward throne!
A silence reigns 'till the lava beds,
And like their warm volcanic fires are true,
The wind ever sweeps flocks of sea-trailing birds.

Around him lie, and fear no ill.
A silhouette framed by mountain range,
Statuesque and blackened by the sands,
Where ecane blooms in forms uncouth and strange.

And though he bide in all the desert lands,
Do voices whisper to his soul, beguiled,
By visions appearing in his fervent sight,
Do thoughts of her—the Virgin—and her child.

Howard and cheer his slumbers in the night:
Who knows? To him he seems a fate of fate,
To find in a grove from which he came in vain,
His resting place to gratify his desire.

And share eternal landscape's reign.
Nir—The Virgin of Guadalupe is to Mexico what Notre Dame is to France and Calcutta to India. She guards the slumbers by night and the footsteps by day her faithful devotees.

It is a religious belief, and sacred to her, the most isolated line of these Mexicans is made endurable.
Without such faith, and racked by doubt or pursued by phantoms of pain and a desire to mingle with the human throng, no man could and the solitary, monotonous existence of a Mexican border of sheep without losing his reason. Some do lose their reason, but very few.

These people make a striking and picturesque addition to the landscape of the table-lands of Mexico.
There is a touch of pathos about them, a something which appeals to the artistic element in their "make-up." Beside one of these figures, under the blue skies and framed in a circle of the Cordilleras, it seemed to me even the most picture of "The Angelus" was commonplace.

From the rock, she looks on his island, Napoleon at St. Helena, or Louis Ronce in Arabian Desert are all suggested, but none had such surroundings. This is because no picture has such perfection in its setting. The atmospheric effects in Mexico cannot be duplicated. The wonderful blinding light of light and shade cannot be described, but must be seen. In Europe there is nothing that approaches it, and perhaps nothing in America, except the Salt Lake Valley of Utah, which has much of the same transparent beauty.

Coming from Japan to the City of Mexico on the Intercontinental Railway, we had for many hours in full view some of the world's great mountains—the great Cordillera de Perote, protecting Jalisco; snowy Orizaba, lifting its summit far above the clouds, the twin volcanoes, Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, and Malintzi, about which hangs the glamour of romance, as it was named after the favorite of Cortes. Her name was Maria, and Malintzi, pronounced Malintzi—was her pet name.

We passed through a varied and constantly shifting panorama—cities, Churches, missions, pueblos, haciendas and stations with crowds of blackened men and hooded women—a very wilderness of color; now a train of burros, then pack peddlars, ponies, great palque loads, great palque loads, and far away the motionless barbers and their backs.

C. H. COLLIER.

Use Streeter's Eight Butter Biscuits in 50 packages. All grocers handle them.

WASHINGTON OPERA-HOUSE.

Opening of the Season With the Great Barlow Minstrel Monday.

The Barlow Minstrel under the management of Harry Ward, played here last night to a good house.

As a musical performance it is so far ahead of the " " aggregation seen here this year that there is no mentioning them in the same breath.

One of the particularly bright features in Harry Ward's troupe, who is away up in his class and one of the best ever seen here, will James who, after many years, has brought back upon the stage the old time negro as he really appeared, and his singing on that old song "I'm Going Back to Dixie," brought tears to the eyes of his audience.

Harry Ward's song, who the are from the gallery by Master Eldon, was one of the prettiest parts of the program. The ballads were particularly good and last but not least Zella was the most wonderful contortionist ever seen in America. All around the Great Barlow Minstrel is the best of its kind here in many years. Popular Prices 25, 35, 50, etc., at Washington Opera-House Monday.

What the City's Building Associations Recorded Saturday Night.

The receipts of the several Building Associations at the city on Saturday night were as follows:
Mason County, $44.90
Lintonville, $23.00
Total, $67.90

ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN.

Death of Mr. M. L. Williams at Manchester—Burial at Maysville Cemetery.

Mr. M. L. Williams, whose continued illness had received frequent mention in The Leader, died Friday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Savage, at Manchester, aged 76.

Decayed was born in Virginia, but had lived for many years in Kentucky—first at Ashland, then in Lewis county, and for the last fifteen years at Peabody Farm near this city.

About a year since he was attacked by Bright's disease, and as he fully realized the rapid approach of death he announced his readiness for the change. As the disease progressed he had to abandon active pursuits and some weeks ago went to the home of his daughter at Manchester.

In the relations of life Mr. Williams was honest and conscientious, of exceptionally even disposition, numbering every acquaintance as a friend.

His wife died several years ago, but he leaves surviving four children.
The funeral services took place at Manchester and the remains were laid to rest in Maysville Cemetery yesterday afternoon with the honors of a soldier.

Farwell, kind friend.
When the digestion is good and the general powers of the system in a healthy state, worms can find no habitation in the human body. White's Cream Vermifuge not only destroys every worm, but corrects all derangements of the digestive organs. Price 25 cents. J. J. Lee, Druggist.

THE MEXICAN HERBIE
BY C. H. COLLIER.
Have you not seen, upon some seaward reaching cape,
The lonely lighthouse, in the glare of day,
Looming up, with twinkling form and shape,
That the night redolts its lantern's ray?

So to the border on his sandy main,
A vigil keeps in desert waste alone,
As beacon tower upon its onward throne!
A silence reigns 'till the lava beds,
And like their warm volcanic fires are true,
The wind ever sweeps flocks of sea-trailing birds.

Around him lie, and fear no ill.
A silhouette framed by mountain range,
Statuesque and blackened by the sands,
Where ecane blooms in forms uncouth and strange.

And though he bide in all the desert lands,
Do voices whisper to his soul, beguiled,
By visions appearing in his fervent sight,
Do thoughts of her—the Virgin—and her child.

Howard and cheer his slumbers in the night:
Who knows? To him he seems a fate of fate,
To find in a grove from which he came in vain,
His resting place to gratify his desire.

And share eternal landscape's reign.
Nir—The Virgin of Guadalupe is to Mexico what Notre Dame is to France and Calcutta to India. She guards the slumbers by night and the footsteps by day her faithful devotees.

It is a religious belief, and sacred to her, the most isolated line of these Mexicans is made endurable.
Without such faith, and racked by doubt or pursued by phantoms of pain and a desire to mingle with the human throng, no man could and the solitary, monotonous existence of a Mexican border of sheep without losing his reason. Some do lose their reason, but very few.

These people make a striking and picturesque addition to the landscape of the table-lands of Mexico.
There is a touch of pathos about them, a something which appeals to the artistic element in their "make-up." Beside one of these figures, under the blue skies and framed in a circle of the Cordilleras, it seemed to me even the most picture of "The Angelus" was commonplace.

From the rock, she looks on his island, Napoleon at St. Helena, or Louis Ronce in Arabian Desert are all suggested, but none had such surroundings. This is because no picture has such perfection in its setting. The atmospheric effects in Mexico cannot be duplicated. The wonderful blinding light of light and shade cannot be described, but must be seen. In Europe there is nothing that approaches it, and perhaps nothing in America, except the Salt Lake Valley of Utah, which has much of the same transparent beauty.

Coming from Japan to the City of Mexico on the Intercontinental Railway, we had for many hours in full view some of the world's great mountains—the great Cordillera de Perote, protecting Jalisco; snowy Orizaba, lifting its summit far above the clouds, the twin volcanoes, Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, and Malintzi, about which hangs the glamour of romance, as it was named after the favorite of Cortes. Her name was Maria, and Malintzi, pronounced Malintzi—was her pet name.

We passed through a varied and constantly shifting panorama—cities, Churches, missions, pueblos, haciendas and stations with crowds of blackened men and hooded women—a very wilderness of color; now a train of burros, then pack peddlars, ponies, great palque loads, great palque loads, and far away the motionless barbers and their backs.

C. H. COLLIER.

AUGUST—1899.

Sun.	Mon.	Tue.	Wed.	Thur.	Fri.	Sat.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28
29	30	31

HERE AND THERE

Miss Nellie Burtie has gone on a week's visit to Cincinnati.

Mrs. T. A. Prather has gone to Frankfort to visit Mrs. T. J. Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Nicholson and Miss Lucy Nicholson are enjoining at Glen Springs.

Miss Willie Logan of Carlisle is visiting her cousin, Miss Lillie Kinard, on Cecil street.

Colonel Thomas H. Brady of Weldon is a frequent caller on The Leader Saturday.

Miss Jennie Schuele returned this morning from a ten days visit to relatives in Bourbon county.

Mr. F. A. Duxkin, the general conductor of the C. & O. dinner-car, spent yesterday in this city.

Miss Agnes Morris after an extended visit to relatives here has returned to her home in Covington.

Mr. W. G. T. Baker, the general secretary of the Maysville Y. M. C. A., has returned from his vacation trip to his home in Missouri.

Dr. and Mrs. J. James Wood have returned from a delightful sojourn at Glen Springs. Mr. Wood's health being greatly improved.

Miss Lillian and Maggie Burrows left this morning for Cincinnati, where they will spend several weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Mary (Edman), who has been a clerk in this city for some time, leaves this week to accept a position in the clock department of a large store in Cincinnati.

Miss Nellie Burtie, after a pleasant visit to Mrs. Burtie White and other relatives here and in Robertson county, returned to her home in Covington this morning.

Miss Fannie Burrows of Union, Ohio, arrived home last week to spend a few days with her mother, and tomorrow she will return to her home in the far West.

THE BEE HIVE!
Ladies' Shirtwaists
AT HALF PRICE.

Every Colored Shirtwaist in our house at exactly half original price. None reserved.

50c. WAISTS are 25c.
75c. WAISTS are 35c.
81c. WAISTS are 50c.
$1.25 WAISTS are 60c.

And up to the very finest grade. All White Waists greatly reduced. 75 pieces Wash goods at 5c. yard, former prices up to 12c. yard.

Specimen!
Five hundred samples of Ladies' Leather Belts. We have divided them into two lots.
BELTS, Regular Price up to 35c., Choice 10c.
BELTS, Regular Price up to 75c., Choice 19c.
They come in Black, Tan, Red and Fancy Shades with assorted buckles. Everything in Summer goods marked down to one-fourth and one-half regular prices.

ROSENAU BROS.,
KINGS OF LOW PRICES. PROPRIETORS BEE HIVE

When pa first 'etabaco sauce—'in millin' 'bout it yet.

Although he tabacco remarks I always shall regret.

We'd come to town to see the night, an' pa remarked to me:

"We'll eat at a house town here an' slug some slug."

An' then he sort of cast his eye among the plates an' all.

An' says: "That ketchup must be good; the bottle is so small!"

An' then he took a piece of meat an' covered it quite thick.

When pa first 'etabaco sauce an' row to marchin' kick.

It ached back so plain to me, I rickollet it well.

He just was talkin' mild an' calm, and then he gives a yell.

An' tried to cure the colic by buttin' with his head.

"Er-Hoop! Er-Hoop! First Murder! Hooh!" I can't tell all he said;

But when he heard his heated words he tried to smile.

An' said such language filled their souls with shame an' also gloom;

But he was only started some, and then he yelled again.

When first he at tabaco sauce an' told about it then.

When his old out-up an' fanned him quick a while.

An' pa sort of gasped at first an' then he tried to smile.

An' says: "Just beat a poker now, an' run it it down my back."

I want to tell of gradual, it's better, I expect."

But when he'd got me out of doors, he says: "That there blame ketchup recipe an' learn just how it's bet."

So I try to tell on the boys when you an' me at him.

Fill they, too, think the condiment is mixed with Kingdom Come."

The Nicholas County Courier is a very healthy reading. In fact it is as vigorous as a four-year-old.

Take stock in the Twenty-first Street Limestone Building Association. Books now open. Call on any of the officers.

Jallard's Snow Luminant gives instant relief in cases of bleeding, Burns, Bruises, Scalds, Cuts, etc. Price 25 and 50 cents. J. Jas. Wood Son.

We find that we can make another cut on our line of Plated Spoons. Now's the time to buy. Ten Spoons 50c., Table Spoons $1.25. We will rebate all purchases of spoons with prices to conform with above prices.

For Rent.
The residence recently occupied by Major Thomas J. Chenoweth, No. 31 West Second street. Apply to Mr. L. V. Davis.

Another Cut.
Rivers Bros. 100 Knives and Forks $2.50, regular price $4. per dozen; Teaspoon Set, regular price $1.25; Sugar Spoon and Butter Knife 50c. each, regular price $1.00; Oak or Walnut Clock only $2.50, regular price $5.00. The lowest prices in the city.

Menure the Jeweler.

THE MEXICAN HERBIE
BY C. H. COLLIER.

Have you not seen, upon some seaward reaching cape,
The lonely lighthouse, in the glare of day,
Looming up, with twinkling form and shape,
That the night redolts its lantern's ray?

So to the border on his sandy main,
A vigil keeps in desert waste alone,
As beacon tower upon its onward throne!
A silence reigns 'till the lava beds,
And like their warm volcanic fires are true,
The wind ever sweeps flocks of sea-trailing birds.

Around him lie, and fear no ill.
A silhouette framed by mountain range,
Statuesque and blackened by the sands,
Where ecane blooms in forms uncouth and strange.

And though he bide in all the desert lands,
Do voices whisper to his soul, beguiled,
By visions appearing in his fervent sight,
Do thoughts of her—the Virgin—and her child.

Howard and cheer his slumbers in the night:
Who knows? To him he seems a fate of fate,
To find in a grove from which he came in vain,
His resting place to gratify his desire.

And share eternal landscape's reign.
Nir—The Virgin of Guadalupe is to Mexico what Notre Dame is to France and Calcutta to India. She guards the slumbers by night and the footsteps by day her faithful devotees.

It is a religious belief, and sacred to her, the most isolated line of these Mexicans is made endurable.
Without such faith, and racked by doubt or pursued by phantoms of pain and a desire to mingle with the human throng, no man could and the solitary, monotonous existence of a Mexican border of sheep without losing his reason. Some do lose their reason, but very few.

These people make a striking and picturesque addition to the landscape of the table-lands of Mexico.
There is a touch of pathos about them, a something which appeals to the artistic element in their "make-up." Beside one of these figures, under the blue skies and framed in a circle of the Cordilleras, it seemed to me even the most picture of "The Angelus" was commonplace.

From the rock, she looks on his island, Napoleon at St. Helena, or Louis Ronce in Arabian Desert are all suggested, but none had such surroundings. This is because no picture has such perfection in its setting. The atmospheric effects in Mexico cannot be duplicated. The wonderful blinding light of light and shade cannot be described, but must be seen. In Europe there is nothing that approaches it, and perhaps nothing in America, except the Salt Lake Valley of Utah, which has much of the same transparent beauty.

Coming from Japan to the City of Mexico on the Intercontinental Railway, we had for many hours in full view some of the world's great mountains—the great Cordillera de Perote, protecting Jalisco; snowy Orizaba, lifting its summit far above the clouds, the twin volcanoes, Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, and Malintzi, about which hangs the glamour of romance, as it was named after the favorite of Cortes. Her name was Maria, and Malintzi, pronounced Malintzi—was her pet name.

We passed through a varied and constantly shifting panorama—cities, Churches, missions, pueblos, haciendas and stations with crowds of blackened men and hooded women—a very wilderness of color; now a train of burros, then pack peddlars, ponies, great palque loads, great palque loads, and far away the motionless barbers and their backs.

C. H. COLLIER.

THE MEXICAN HERBIE
BY C. H. COLLIER.

Have you not seen, upon some seaward reaching cape,
The lonely lighthouse, in the glare of day,
Looming up, with twinkling form and shape,
That the night redolts its lantern's ray?

So to the border on his sandy main,
A vigil keeps in desert waste alone,
As beacon tower upon its onward throne!
A silence reigns 'till the lava beds,
And like their warm volcanic fires are true,
The wind ever sweeps flocks of sea-trailing birds.

Around him lie, and fear no ill.
A silhouette framed by mountain range,
Statuesque and blackened by the sands,
Where ecane blooms in forms uncouth and strange.

And though he bide in all the desert lands,
Do voices whisper to his soul, beguiled,
By visions appearing in his fervent sight,
Do thoughts of her—the Virgin—and her child.

The best Ice Cream Soda and Phosphate at Hay's Postoffice Drugstore.

Orders for Honker's Cut Flowers left at George Cox & Son's will receive prompt attention.

C. B. Avery, who is so unfortunately known in the city on account of his race, has been released from the Ohio Penitentiary, where he spent a year on account of his gambling transactions.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, ss.
I, Frank J. Cheney, make oath that he is the legal partner of the firm of J. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, Ohio, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

WEEKLY RECEIPTS.
What the City's Building Associations Recorded Saturday Night.

The receipts of the several Building Associations at the city on Saturday night were as follows:
Mason County, $44.90
Lintonville, $23.00
Total, $67.90

ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN.

Death of Mr. M. L. Williams at Manchester—Burial at Maysville Cemetery.

Mr. M. L. Williams, whose continued illness had received frequent mention in The Leader, died Friday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Savage, at Manchester, aged 76.

Decayed was born in Virginia, but had lived for many years in Kentucky—first at Ashland, then in Lewis county, and for the last fifteen years at Peabody Farm near this city.

About a year since he was attacked by Bright's disease, and as he fully realized the rapid approach of death he announced his readiness for the change. As the disease progressed he had to abandon active pursuits and some weeks ago went to the home of his daughter at Manchester.

In the relations of life Mr. Williams was honest and conscientious, of exceptionally even disposition, numbering every acquaintance as a friend.

His wife died several years ago, but he leaves surviving four children.
The funeral services took place at Manchester and the remains were laid to rest in Maysville Cemetery yesterday afternoon with the honors of a soldier.

Farwell, kind friend.
When the digestion is good and the general powers of the system in a healthy state, worms can find no habitation in the human body. White's Cream Vermifuge not only destroys every worm, but corrects all derangements of the digestive organs. Price 25 cents. J. J. Lee, Druggist.

THE MEXICAN HERBIE
BY C. H. COLLIER.

Have you not seen, upon some seaward reaching cape,
The lonely lighthouse, in the glare of day,
Looming up, with twinkling form and shape,
That the night redolts its lantern's ray?

So to the border on his sandy main,
A vigil keeps in desert waste alone,
As beacon tower upon its onward throne!
A silence reigns 'till the lava beds,
And like their warm volcanic fires are true,
The wind ever sweeps flocks of sea-trailing birds.

Around him lie, and fear no ill.
A silhouette framed by mountain range,
Statuesque and blackened by the sands,
Where ecane blooms in forms uncouth and strange.

And though he bide in all the desert lands,
Do voices whisper to his soul, beguiled,
By visions appearing in his fervent sight,
Do thoughts of her—the Virgin—and her child.

Howard and cheer his slumbers in the night:
Who knows? To him he seems a fate of fate,
To find in a grove from which he came in vain,
His resting place to gratify his desire.

And share eternal landscape's reign.
Nir—The Virgin of Guadalupe is to Mexico what Notre Dame is to France and Calcutta to India. She guards the slumbers by night and the footsteps by day her faithful devotees.

It is a religious belief, and sacred to her, the most isolated line of these Mexicans is made endurable.
Without such faith, and racked by doubt or pursued by phantoms of pain and a desire to mingle with the human throng, no man could and the solitary, monotonous existence of a Mexican border of sheep without losing his reason. Some do lose their reason, but very few.

These people make a striking and picturesque addition to the landscape of the table-lands of Mexico.
There is a touch of pathos about them, a something which appeals to the artistic element in their "make-up." Beside one of these figures, under the blue skies and framed in a circle of the Cordilleras, it seemed to me even the most picture of "The Angelus" was commonplace.

From the rock, she looks on his island, Napoleon at St. Helena, or Louis Ronce in Arabian Desert are all suggested, but none had such surroundings. This is because no picture has such perfection in its setting. The atmospheric effects in Mexico cannot be duplicated. The wonderful blinding light of light and shade cannot be described, but must be seen. In Europe there is nothing that approaches it, and perhaps nothing in America, except the Salt Lake Valley of Utah, which has much of the same transparent beauty.

Coming from Japan to the City of Mexico on the Intercontinental Railway, we had for many hours in full view some of the world's great mountains—the great Cordillera de Perote, protecting Jalisco; snowy Orizaba, lifting its summit far above the clouds, the twin volcanoes, Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, and Malintzi, about which hangs the glamour of romance, as it was named after the favorite of Cortes. Her name was Maria, and Malintzi, pronounced Malintzi—was her pet name.

The Murray-Hart Company which closed at Electric Park Saturday night is not in any way connected with the Murray Company Company now conducting at the Electric House.

C. B. Avery, who is so unfortunately known in the city on account of his race, has been released from the Ohio Penitentiary, where he spent a year on account of his gambling transactions.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, ss.
I, Frank J. Cheney, make oath that he is the legal partner of the firm of J. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, Ohio, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

WEEKLY RECEIPTS.
What the City's Building Associations Recorded Saturday Night.

The receipts of the several Building Associations at the city on Saturday night were as follows:
Mason County, $44.90
Lintonville, $23.00
Total, $67.90

ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN.

Death of Mr. M. L. Williams at Manchester—Burial at Maysville Cemetery.

Wall street, between Second and Third opposite Dr. Pickett's residence. Phone 18.

LOW PRICES.  GOOD WORK

MONUMENTAL, ^{AND} CEMETERY AND BUILDING WORK.
219 Market Street, MAYSVILLE, K.
JOHN W. PORTER. J. H. GUMMING

FUNERAL DIRECTORS,
17 East Second Street. MAYSVILLE, K.

PENNYROYAL PILLS
Original and Only Genuine.
SAFE. NEVER FAILS. LADIES USE.
Indication for Catarrhs, a English Disease, & Stent in Men and Child marriages caused with their pills. Take two pills. Beware dangerous substitutes and imitations. At Liverpool, or send for the original to the proprietor, Chemist and "Keefer for Ladies." In order, per post.
Send 10/600 Testimonials, Name, Payment, Child, Marital, Chemical Co.,
BOND ST. ALL LANC. LIVERPOOL. PHILADEL., PA.
1922-10-18. E.g.

WILLIAM D. COCHRAN
Attorney and Counsellor at Law,
211 COURT STREET, MAYSVILLE, K.
 Prompt attention to settlement
estates and adjustment of accounts

Advertising

Resumption

Means business resumption.....It is wise to start early.....It is wiser never to stop.....
If it pays to keep your front doors open, it must pay to keep your name before the readers of THE LINGER—they are FREE ADVERTISING.

No Charge! Advertisements are placed at no charge in "The Heating of Houses," "Wanted," "Lost," "Situations Wanted," etc., if accepted for publication three times or more. All other advertisements are charged at the rate of one cent per word per week.

[illegible]

WANTED—A college graduate woman to travel with school family as the companion to the Address Miss M., Box 2, Phila. Va. 18115

W* ANFIELD—Woman helps at the Grand Avenue Hotel and at others. English.

WANTED—Firm work of general housewife. A. J. KILPATRICK, 1022 Lexington Ave., New York 17.

WANTED—Men and women, good address, travel at night, agent, sharp eyes, no experience necessary. Address, with reference, H. J. KILPATRICK, 1022 Lexington Ave., New York 17.

WANTED—Willing to cook by the week. Address, with reference, H. J. KILPATRICK, 1022 Lexington Ave., New York 17.

WANTED—Work of any kind, to do at home or will go to any place to work. Address, with reference, H. J. KILPATRICK, 1022 Lexington Ave., New York 17.

FOR RENT.

FOR RENT—Swimming in the brick row second floor. Apply to ROBERT F. KILPATRICK, 1022 Lexington Ave., New York 17.

FOR RENT—Residence, in second street, near Limestone. Apply to Limestone. 727 1/2

FOR RENT—Three good dwellings, for rent. Apply to Limestone. 727 1/2

FOR SALE

FOR SALE Four Southdown Back Lambs
Apply to J. C. STEVENSON, Morrisville, N.Y.
aug15 2

FOR SALE Household and Kitchen Furniture
at private sale till at residence of D.
SPRINKLE, East Second street, near Limestone Mill.
aug15 2

[illegible]

1 OST—A small silver platoon, Finder please turn to this office and receive reward
Aug 19

1 OST. STAYED OR STOLEN—Little
Horse hitched to buggy; horse has two white hind feet, a bite on left side of neck near his one weak eye and small cut on right flank.
I turn to K. L. MARTIN, Nashville, Kv Aug 12 1936

1 OST—On Tarnel pike, between homes of Navi
Orledge and Mrs. Mary Dinmitt, park places in case from Klein, Indiana, (Indiana
Return to FERRIS LINDING Aug 19

